

April 2023

Hello!

I hope things are going well for you.

This letter is to update you about things going on in my life and an invitation to support me in ministry this summer.

To begin with, some news. On May 20th, I will be graduating from high school. It's been an awesome educational journey so far! I am grateful for my family's investment in providing a homeschool education – I will always be a product of the Price Academy. I've had incredible opportunities to learn, experience life, travel, grow in musical and leadership skills and create lifelong friendships. Most importantly, I have grown in the knowledge and love of the Lord.

The graduation ceremony will be held through one of the co-ops I am involved in called Master's Lyceum. There will be seventeen other seniors graduating with me. I have been accepted into Asbury University in Wilmore, Kentucky and following graduation, I plan to major in Worship Arts. I am preparing for this new chapter with great anticipation!

But before college this fall, I am going to have an amazing summer. As you probably know, I have been a part of Harvest Ministry all my life. I have traveled in the van with my family and Harvest Team Members to serve in ministry since I was born. In fact, on many occasions, I have even joined my dad and other team members in leading music for events.

However, this is the first year that I will be an official member of the Harvest summer ministry team. I am honored to help lead in this ministry that I have known my whole life. We will be leading music at camps and events from the end of June through the first week of August. In addition to leading with Harvest, I will also be participating in a mission trip, directing the Music and Drama Camp at our home church, and attending a week of summer camp as my last year as a camper.

I'm investing my all during this final summer of my high school life and am inviting you to join me. Throughout all these years, Harvest has been a mission during the summer. Team members voluntarily travel to serve and if they wish, raise partner support from friends, family, and their home churches to be awarded as an educational scholarship. The money raised on my behalf will be sent directly to Asbury University to help with tuition for the 2023-2024 school year. Would you help me reach my goal by investing in me this year?

In addition to support, I'm also inviting you to join me in prayer - for this transition in life, the summer ministry, and beginning at Asbury.
